

Your coach – Lloyd Chevannes

Lloyd Chevannes was born in sunny Jamaica and for some reason decided to move to rainy England at the age of 21. He was the manager of a hospital for many years but has always had a passion for chess.

He enjoyed playing the game, but always found that he was more of a teacher. His techniques have proven to be very successful since after teaching his children the moves, they went on to represent England!

Lloyd has been teaching at a junior school in Sutton Coldfield for over 15 years and has led their team to win regional trophies and sent individuals through to the final stages of the UK Chess Challenge.

Lloyd has also taught privately and one of his students has been selected to represent England in the World Youth Chess Championships.
